03 WHAT THE SYSTEM CAN HELP WITH

Features are enabled according to the selected setup and connected platforms.

CRM and customer records

Track contacts, lead sources, conversation history, deal stages and customer details in one place.

Business dashboard and reports

Review new leads, follow-up status, appointments and activity. Reports depend on connected data sources.

AI voice receptionist

Answer routine enquiries, capture caller details, qualify leads, route calls and help schedule appointments.

Customer messaging

Automate supported email, SMS or other connected-channel messages. Channel availability depends on the provider and client accounts.

Automated follow-up

Trigger reminders and follow-ups after forms, missed calls, enquiries or appointments.

AI business assistant

Configure responses using approved business information, FAQs, services, operating hours and escalation rules.

04 USAGE, BILLING & SCOPE

Minutes and messages

Each monthly plan includes a defined allowance for AI voice minutes and messages. The exact allowance must be confirmed in the proposal because provider costs vary by phone number, channel, AI model and destination.

Overages

Minutes, SMS segments, phone numbers, carrier fees, AI model usage and other provider charges beyond the allowance are billed separately or purchased as an add-on.

Third-party accounts

Some services require the client to own or authorize accounts for CRM, telephony, email, SMS, calendar, website or messaging providers.

Setup scope

The one-time setup fee covers the workflows, integrations, locations and revision/testing scope agreed in writing. New workflows or major changes may cost extra.

AI limitations

AI can misunderstand callers or produce incorrect responses. Critical actions, sensitive questions and uncertain cases should have clear escalation to a human.

Compliance

Client is responsible for lawful contact lists, consent and applicable messaging/call-recording rules. Call recording should be disclosed where required.

Your business data. Your workflows. One connected view.

Final features, usage limits, third-party costs and support terms are confirmed before onboarding.

All prices are starting prices in USD. Usage allowances are defined in the service agreement and may vary by provider.
